

Idaho Department of Labor Employer Association

PRESENTS:

Managing through Uncertainty: Engaging Change

The only thing that stays the same in business is change. Every day presents new challenges and new opportunities. How managers adapt to the changing horizon is the difference between surviving and thriving.

At the end of the session you will be able to:

- Explain why most change efforts fail
- Describe the three activities needed for successful change
- Identify six activities that keep people engaged and focused

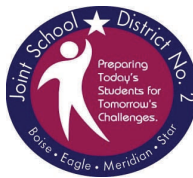

Facilitated by: Dan Bobinski, Director for The Center for Workplace Excellence
Dan has been equipping managers for 20 years with a track record of achievements in Fortune 500 companies as well as small and mid-sized businesses

Tuesday, November 4, 2008
7:30am to 9:30am

Meridian School District
Salmon Room
1303 East Central Drive, Meridian, ID 83642

Cost: $15.00 per person, includes continental breakfast and door prizes.
Please pay by check or cash payable to the Idaho Department of Labor Employer Association.

RSVP to Alisa Bondurant:
Phone: 332-3575, ext.3545
E-mail: alisa.bondurant@labor.idaho.gov

Workforce Strategies for Changing Times

IDAHO
DEPARTMENT OF LABOR